G. Chandler. Premiums will be awarded on the best plan for an "Ideal Kitchen."

Will Brown, of Indianapolis, while visiting at Westfield the other day, received a severe cut in the leg from the careless use of a knife.

Frank Webber was fined $10 and given ten days by the Mayor yesterday, for selling liquor after 11 o'clock. Webber appealed the case to the Criminal Court. Mrs. Susan Webber will be tried to-day on a similar charge.

PERSONAL MENTION.

L. H. Willis, Sheriff of Sullivan County, was in the city yesterday and called at the Sentinel rooms.

New Occidental: H. T. Underwood, Peru; John C. Orr, Columbus; P. B. Sydes, Brookville; O. W. Henderson, Montezuma.

John M. Burke, General Manager Buffalo Bill Wild West, called to see us yesterday. He is arranging for the exhibition at the fair grounds next week.

Carroll County furnishes three first-class jurors for the Federal Courts at Indianapolis. Robert Wason will serve in the Circuit Court, Mahlon Keating and Samuel Greenup in the District Court.—Delphi Times.

J. W. Edmonson, New Albany; Dr. L. D. Glazebrook, San Pierre; P. B. Snavely, Wabash; W. R. Kinnear, Columbus; R. C. Bell, Fort Wayne; W. M. Copeland, Madison; John R. Gordon, H. C. Darnell, Greencastle; E. H. Sellers, Monticello; James P. Davidson, Lafayette; T. J. Charlton, Plainfield; D. A. Gordon, Mount Carmel; Mrs. Ralston, Wilmington, are at the Grand Hotel.

State Senator Magee returned last night from Washington City, D. C., where he went to consult with the President and Secretary of State as to the policy to be carried out in the position of Minister to Sweden and Norway. The Senator will probably leave Logansport for Stockholm the latter part of May. He learned in conversation with persons who had lived in Stockholm that the climate there is much more temperate than is generally supposed.—Logansport Pharos.

We looked in upon our old friend, Aquilla Jones, the Democratic Postmaster at Indianapolis. He was working smooth and quiet in the new harness. We also saw that old Democratic, and therefore pious man, Rev. G. H. P. Abbott, who has charge of the City Department. He was a little awkward at first, and the Republicans served him a mean trick by calling all at once for odd stamp orders. Mr. Jones says he will favor Democrats for positions under him to the full limit of the law.—Hancock Democrat.

Bates House: Hon. P. H. McCormack, Samuel Hege, T. Hinds, J. F. Ballard, J. H. Evans, Columbus; S. A. Miller, Portland; W. Nickel, Rochester; James A. New, Greencastle; Ed Padgin, Hanover; W. C. Davis and son, Kokomo; George E. Nichol, I. E. May, Anderson; E. E. Smith, Bloomington; H. C. Plank, Perryville; C. C. Shack, Plainfield; General William Gross, New Castle; Judge John C. Robinson, Spencer; Hon. DeLoe Skinner, Valparaiso; A. D. Roach, Kokomo; John Cook, Elkhart; Joseph Black, Bluffton; R. R. Beach, Muncie; C. W. Hartley, Goodland; E. H. McCaffrey, Cambridge City; F. M. Shively, Hazleton; J. W. Howard, St. Paul; J. Mills, Knightstown.

We are informed that Hon. Lewis C. Garrigue, late Republican candidate for Attorney General of Kentucky, has removed from Russellville, in this State, and located in Indianapolis, Ind., where he proposes in future to reside and continue the practice of the law. While we differ politically from Mr. Garrigue, we recognize in him the true gentleman and upright and honorable citizen, and we would greatly prefer to have more such come among us rather than have them leave our State. As a lawyer (and we speak from experience, having employed him) Mr. Garrigue is a safe counsel, a pains-taking, accurate pleader, and an able advocate, and we heartily commend him to the people amongst whom he has cast his lot.—Louisville Courier Journal.

He Lives in Franklin.

(Franklin Democrat.)

It is a lucky thing for Indianapolis ladies who lose their pocket books that people from this city occasionally go to Indianapolis. One day the latter part of last week Stewart, while in the city of concentric circles boarded a street car in which a lady was seated, being the only occupants of the car. The lady alighted from the car, and entering a store discovered that her pocket book was missing. Mr. Stewart found the book shortly after the lady had left the car and asked the driver to take it to the company's office, but the driver refused it. Stewart then examined the book and found, besides several dollars in money, a tax receipt. He then took the book to the Treasurer's office and turned it over to the Treasurer and wrote a card to the lady informing her where she could find it. The lady was Mrs. Southard, wife of an invalid husband whose circumstances were none too luxurious, and the recovery of the pocket book was no doubt greatly appreciated by her. Such men as Mr. Stewart are scarce, but he lives in Franklin.

Death of George F. Smith.

George F. Smith, a former resident of this city, died at Ravens, O., on Sunday last of consumption. The Ravens Republican says that his death was a surprise to many, though he had been ill for three weeks, but his condition was not generally known. Continuing, the Republican says:

He was born at Indianapolis, Ind., June 23, 1815, and was a son of Rev. John Smith, a well-known Methodist minister. He came to Ravens in 1876 and engaged in the dry goods business with his brother-in-law, H. B. Weber, under the firm name of Weber &amp; Smith. January 19, 1877, he was married to Miss Maggie Holcomb, daughter of Warner Holcomb, Esq. Upon the dissolution of the firm of Weber &amp; Smith, he was engaged by Holcomb &amp; Cook, contractors, as bookkeeper. About three years ago he was appointed cashier and bookkeeper of the Diamond Glass Company, which position he held till his death. He was a remarkably clear-headed business man, most respected in his community, and loved and respected by all who knew him. His health had been poor for two years, and the recent severe winter proved too much for his delicate condition. He never missed a day at his office during the coldest weather, and seemed to be endowed with rare pluck and determination to fight against reaper.

Will Test Its Constitutionality.

The attorney of the Central Union Telephone Company has been in the city for the past few days consulting with officials with regard to the law reducing the rental of telephone instruments. He believes the law is unconstitutional, and will test it in the courts. He is credited with saying that, if the courts held the law to be constitutional, the company would be forced to close its exchanges throughout the State.

The Fees Cut Off.

During Judge Woolen's term of office as Attorney General he caused to be instituted a number of suits against parties in Newton County—fifteen in all—for the recovery of swamp lands, and Julian &amp; Julian were appointed his assistants. They went to work in the cases, and when Judge Baldwin was elected he continued the firm as his assistants. Attorney General Hord continued the appointment, and one of the cases—that of the State vs. the Portsmouth Savings Bank—is now in the Supreme Court as a test case. Under the new law, cutting off the fees of the Assistant Attorney General's fees, Julian &amp; Julian are not likely to get any compensation for their labor unless allowed by some future Legislature.

About Summer Trips.

Summer will soon be here, and we will begin to inquire about where we will spend the hot season. I for one would prefer Northern Michigan, but there are others who would rather go up into Minnesota, others Wisconsin; in fact, every one feels like leaving home for a short time somewhere. Now, to enable you to do this, we would suggest that you apply to Robert Emmett, District Passenger Agent, Monon Route, No. 28 South Illinois street, Indianapolis, who can supply you with round trip tourist tickets to all summer resorts in the North, Northwest, and in Michigan. Commencing May 1, these tourist tickets will be put on sale, and you can purchase them via the Monon Route as cheap as by any other line. The coaches and sleeping cars of this line can not be excelled by any road. Please ask all the questions you want to, and they will be carefully answered by Mr. Emmett.
